BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1316, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and one of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" providing compensation for persons injured while working in violation of safety laws go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Bonbrake.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Bonbrake, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Bonbrake, if he will give the Senate his reasons for putting the bill over in its order.

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, I ask that this bill go over in its order so that it may be compared with another bill, somewhat similar, now in the hands of the Governor.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I do not know of any other bill, that has been passed during this session of the Legislature, similar to this bill. I just want to explain this bill in a few words.

When a miner prepares a hole for a blast, he has examined the face of the chamber, he finds no gas, and he prepares his hole accordingly. In the meantime there may accumulate some gas in the breast of that chamber, and they have a premature blast. If so, this bill enables him to receive his compensation if he is injured in an accident due to no negligence on the part of the miner.

Therefore, I think it is in the interest of public safety that this bill go through and be voted upon. However, if it will pleace the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Bonbrake, I am satisfied to have the bill go over in its order. But there is nothing to this, except, as I say, that it protects the miner in the event that the gas accumulates after he has made his examination. At present he is barred from compensation on that account.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to announce to the Senate that immediately following recess at this session of the Senate there will be a meeting of the Committee on Public Roads and Highways in Room 562, the same room in which the Committee on Judiciary General meets.

I would also like to call to the attention of the Committee on Public Roads and Highways that there will be considered at this meeting the question of the Omnibus Road Bill, and I therefore ask their attendance.

I would also like to call to the attention of the members of the Senate that if they have any amendments to the present highways represented on the State Highway Plan, they should submit them to the Chairman of the Committee on Public Roads and Highways not later than to-morrow,—to-day if possible. I mean by that, that if they have any changes they desire to be made in the location of present routes, without establishing new roads or new mileage, that they be brought to the committee, for submission to the chairman; and, before doing so, to ascertain what act of Assembly established the route sought to be changed, whether the act of 1911, the act of 1913 or the act of 1925. Thus Route 3 probably comes under the act establishing highways routes; and I would ask any member having such amendments to see that his amendments are submitted to the chairman of the committee on Public Roads and Highways today, if possible, or surely not later than tomorrow.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, whether it is the purpose of the committee to introduce an omnibus bill in the Senate.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, we have no thought of starting an omnibus bill in the Senate. I understand there is an omnibus bunch on its way through the House, which will probably reach here today or tomorrow. But it is the purpose of the committee to consider whether or not we are to adopt the House Bill and establish the routes in that bill.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSION TO STUDY CRIMINAL LAWS AND PROCEDURE IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SALUS offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 5th, 1927.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a commission consisting of eight citizens, of whom two shall be prosecuting attorneys, two shall be judges of the court of common pleas, one shall be a member of he Senate, one shall be a member of the House of Representatives and two other citizens of the Commonwealth, at least one of whom shall have had experience in social welfare work. The Attorney General shall be an ex-officio member of said commission and chairman thereof. The commission shall study the laws, conditions and practice of this Commonwealth relating to crimes, criminal procedure and criminals, to examine the crime situation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the procedure, methods and agencies concerned with the detection of crime, the apprehension, bailing, prosecution and trial of persons accused of crime, and the punishment, treatment and pardon of convicted persons and all other matters which have relation directly or indirectly to the crime situation in this Commonwealth, and such additional laws as may be made to embody the best thought and experience on these subjects, and to suggest revisions and amendments to the statutes of Pennsylvania which relate to any of the foregoing matters. All recommendations of the commission shall be accompanied by concise statements and reasons for such recommendations. The members of the commission shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be allowed the actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

Resolved, That the commission, or its authorized agent, shall have access to such documents, records and papers belonging to or under the control of the State, cities, counties, boroughs and townships and of institutions, commissions and societies dealing with crime, criminal procedure or criminals, which are subject to State supervision, whenever such examination of documents, records and papers is necessary for the compilation of statistics and facts that may be of use and value to the commission in its work.

Resolved, That said commission shall make a full report in writing to a General Assembly which shall convene in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, on or before the first day of February of said year.

Resolved, That the expenses of the commission shall be paid from an item inserted in the General Appropriation Law to the Department of Justice. The said expenses shall be paid on warrants duly signed by the chairman of the commission, and approved by the Auditor General.

Resolved, That the Legislative Reference Bureau shall render such assistance to the commission, as may from time to time be requested.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

it was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HARRIS, from the Committee on Education, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 992, (House Bill No. 741), entitled:

An Act to amend sections six hundred and seventeen as amended and seven hundred and eight of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. An Act to amend section one hundred forty-one of an act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty (P. L. 382), entitled "An act to consolidate, revise, and amend the penal laws of this Commonwealth."

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

RECESS.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until five o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORT OF AUDITOR GENERAL, STATE TREASURER AND BUDGET SECRETARY.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication from the Auditor General, State Treasurer and Budget Secretary, which was read as follows:

To the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In compliance with request in concurrent resolution, approved March 9, 1927, we have the honor to report that after very careful and mature consideration we find that the detailed estimates of the revenues for the biennium ending May 31, 1929, as set forth on pages 96 to 101 in Governor Fisher's Budget Message to the Legislature, under date of January 31, 1927, are as accurate and in as much detail as can practically be furnished.

The estimated revenues of $130,036,756.00 for the biennium 1927-29, as set forth in Governor Fisher's Budget, are less than the actual amounts that will be collected during the current biennium 1925-1927. This is due to three reasons:

1. There was collected, approximately, $3,000,000.00 highway construction refunds which is nothing more than a bookkeeping proposition, and simply represents amounts previously paid out and refunded;
2. $1,795,967.84 representing collections of gasoline tax and paid into the General Fund will not be paid into the General Fund during the 1927-29 biennium, for the reason that the Act of 1925 transferred these payments from the General Fund to the Motor Fund;
3. $2,683,050.45 was collected from emergency profits tax and paid into the General Fund during the present biennium but will not be paid into the Treasury during the 1927-1929 biennium. This Emergency Act was enacted by the 1923 Session for a period of two years, and, consequently automatically expired.

Hence, there will be an apparent decrease of seven and a half million dollars of the General Fund receipts from the 1925-27 biennium in the 1927-29 biennium.

If the General Fund receipts during the months of April and May only equal the receipts of the corresponding two months of last year, there should be at the end of the biennium in the State Treasury, in excess of all appropriation liabilities due to Acts passed during and prior to the 1925 Session, a balance of $9,248,896.11. There would, therefore, be available for appropriation purposes by the present Legislature a sum total of, approximately, $139,285,652.00. Of course, it is understood that these estimates are all based upon the assumption that no changes have been or will be made by the present Legistlature in revenue acts which contributed toward the General Fund.

Respectifully submitted,

EDWARD MARTIN,
Auditor General.

S. S. LEWIS,
State Treasurer.

ARTHUR P. TOWNSEND,
Budget Secretary.

April 5, 1927.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that the communication just read be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, April 5, 1927.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee this morning for the joys and the inspiration and the encouragement which we receive from each other as firiends. We thank Thee for friendship; we thank Thee because we are social beings, living together under human government, living in homes; we thank Thee for our government; we thank Thee for our receive from each other as friends. We thank Thee for each other. May we as members of this House in our friendship, in our relationship with each other, make day by day, as we live the memories of the future, which shall gladden our lives and be like green sunny spots in memory's face, when our friends have departed from us. Be today with those who are sick, with those who are in sorrow. Be among those who have lost dear ones recently, and guide us, and bless us in all of our relationships here as men and women, as citizens of this state. We ask in Thy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

NAYS—1.

Patterson,F.W.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmaive.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Sterling.

The House resumed the consideration on final pasage of House Bill No. 1320, entitled:

An Act creating a State Board of Parole Commissioners within the Department of Welfare establishing the office of State Supervisor of Paroles and Secretary of the State Board of Parole Commissioners and prescribing the powers and duties of each.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill that is now before you for consideration, is the bill prepared by and submitted to you through the Parole Commission appointed by legislative enactment during the 1925 session of the legislature. That commission consisted of two members of the Senate, two members of the House, and one appointed by the last Governor of the Commonwealth. The commission worked throughout the past two years, studying the questions, having hearings in the western part of the state as well as the eastern part of the state, making through the assistance of the secretary to the commission, a very extensive investigation of the penal institutions in this Commonwealth, as well as in other important commonwealths of this country, making a study of the system of paroling prisoners in this Commonwealth as well as in other commonwealths of this union. So that this bill is the final thought of the commission on parole. There has been considerable misapprehension on the scope of the bill itself, and upon that I want to say a word or two to the members of the House. First of all the bill does not deal with probation. Second, it does not deal with pardons, and third, it has nothing to do with the release of prisoners from county jails or workhouses. I want also to reassure the House that this bill does not take away from the trustees of the three state institutions any rights now vested in them by the statutes of this Commonwealth. I want to reassure the House that the bill does not take away from the judges any rights that are presently vested in them so far as the subject of parole is concerned. I want to further reassure the House that the bill does not in any ways infringe upon or derrogate any of the rights of the probation officers of the Commonwealth, or of the various counties of the Commonwealth. Now, parole, members of the House, is not probation, parole is not pardon. Parole only deals with the release of a prisoner that has served a stated imprisonment according to this bill, in the state penitentiaries, and if it does anything, if this bill does anything, it continues the imprisonment of a person committed to a state institution after that person has served his actual term in prison. From the study by the parole commission it has been established beyond doubt, that for the major crimes our statutes and our courts provide for a longer term of imprisonment than any of the principle commonwealths of this country. This bill does in short these three things. It first of all provides a comprehensive means for preparing a prisoner to meet the situation that will confront him after he is released from the penitentiary. Second, it provides and sets up a system for the selection by the trustees of the institutions of persons who are about to be put on parole, and lastly, and probably more important than either of the two previous points that I have mentioned, it sets up a system of supervision of the men who are released on parole. The condition today in Pennsylvania is such that there is no contact, no personal contact between the parolee after he is discharged and the institution from which he has been discharged. Our investigation shows that the only contact between the parolee and the institution itself is by letter writing, which very clearly demonstrates to those who have studied the question that that is most ineffectual means of keeping in touch with those men who are paroled. This bill creates a state parole commission of eleven members in the Department of Welfare. It provides for the appointment of a state supervisor of parole; it provides for the divisions of this Commonwealth into a number of geographical areas, into which will be placed field agents appointed by the state supervisor of parole, by and with the consent of the parole commission. It is the belief of the commission that this is not by any means a perfect system, but on the other hand it is the belief of the commission that if this bill is enacted into law, the parole system of Pennsylvania will take its place along with, if not ahead of the parole systems in Massachusetts, in Illinois and in Indiana. It is the belief of the members of this parole commission that if this bill is enacted into law, crime will be very greatly reduced. Repeaters of crime will be very materially handicapped in the commission of that crime when they are on parole. Finally, since the commission which has brought this bill to you is, after all, your commission. It asks that you give this bill your fairest consideration. Personally I believe the commission has done a conscientious and good job. I believe that it brings this bill to you in absolute good faith, and for these reasons, and for the reasons that I have stated, I ask that you pass the bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret that I am compelled to disagree with my friend from Philadelphia, with respect to the merits of this bill. I agreed with him when he told us about the many things that the bill does no do. I do not agree with him when he tells us that the enactment of this bill as a law will reduce crime. A statement of that kind and character is in my opinion ridiculous on the face of it. This bill, as it is before you today, causes centralization of the parole system of the State of Pennsylvania. It is an endeavor to centralize in Harrisburg the parole officers of this great Commonwealth. My friend tells you that at present there is no contact and no supervision between the parolee and the institution from which he is paroled. That statement is in error. There are parole officers of the western penitentiary, there are parole officers of the eastern penitentiary, and there are parole officers of our reform schools, and there is contact now between the parolee and the institution from which he has been paroled, and this bill is a step toward the abolition of those parole officers. It tries to put into Harrisburg a board which serves for pay, a board composed of eleven men who need meet, if they want to, but once in three months. It creates various jobs, it creates various field clerks, and it says that people shall report in person or in writing to Harrisburg. Now if my friend says that reporting in writing is not sufficient, then I ask him whether or not it is his intention that a person from some far off part of Pennsylvania shall come to Harrisburg and report in person. I ask him, does this bill change the system of reporting in writing. This bill is a step towards the abolition of local parole officers. Call it what you may, if you enact this into legislation, you are making a step towards that end. This board has the right to create its own rules and its own regulations for the conduct of prisoners. It will not reduce crime—to tell you that it will, is wrong. I am going to ask the members of this House to leave our parole system as it is. Let our local parole officers take care of the situation, and let us not try to centralize in Harrisburg a parole board. I am going to ask the members of this House to vote no on this bill, and not to enact it into legislation.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Sterling.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1319, entitled:

An Act relating to persons paroled from the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon and regulating the procedure when such persons violate the terms of paroles and the effect of such violations

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, since the House has very definitely expressed itself on the work of the Parole Commission, and since this bill is a companion bill to the one just defeated, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1511, entitled:

An Act to amend section eighteen of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and fifteen) entitled "An act relating to the qualification jurisdiction powers and duties of registers of wills and regulating proceedings before said registers and the costs thereof the effects of their acts and appeals therefrom granting the right of appeal from the determination or decision of the orphans' court in certain cases

NAYS—1.

Patterson,F.W.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1460, entitled:

An Act to authorize boroughs to sue out writs of scire facias on certain municipal claims where more than five years have elapsed since said claims were filed and to reduce such claims to judgment and providing for the revival and collection of such judgments

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to call your attention to this next bill, which provides for the reviving of borough liens, which are already outlawed by the statute of limitations, without limit. I think it should be voted down.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think something should be said in favor of this bill. In other words, I don't think the gentleman from Allegheny has just exactly examined this bill as some of the rest of us have. This was in the Judiciary General Committee. Our first idea was, just as the gentleman from Allegheny has stated, and here is the proposition: A borough lays a sidewalk or does some municipal improvement around a man's property. The Act of Assembly now provides that at the end of five years, if it has not been revived during that time that that lien drops, and the borough loses that lien. In other words, if the solicitor for one day or two days fails to have that lien revived against that real estate, the borough loses the money, and that man has received the improvement. Now, this bill only provides that the borough may, notwithstanding the five years sue out a writ of Scire Facias and revive that lien, even after the five days given against the property, or in the case of property that has been sold or alienated or disposed of by that man and against the property which he has in his hands against which this lien is now a lien. It seems to me it is only just, because every man should pay his debts, it makes no difference if somebody has made a mistake and has not revived that lien.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened to the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware and I want to inform him and you also that I have examined this bill very carefully. I have been borough solicitor and am acquainted with the borough act. I am not in favor of coming down here to correct some careless mistakes of some borough solicitors that are not on the job. As the law now stands a borough has a lien for a side walk, street improvement, creating loans, or any other, improvements, are liens against any property for six months, whether filed or not and after they are filed they are liens for five years, and that is plenty of time to revive them or collect them, and if they don't do it why come down here and ask you members to revive liens without limit. A lien twenty years old could be revived under this act, and I think it is outrageous.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Richards, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill you have just passed No. 400, is one for which a companion bill was presented by the gentleman from Cambria county, Mr. Edmund James. In the wisdom of the Committee on Ways and Means it was thought best not to report out Mr. James' bill and to report the one you have just passed an act cutting it down to one thousand dollars. The Ways and Means Committee suggested that Mr. James name be placed on this bill as co-sponsor. I deem it a pleasure and a privilege to have my name associated with that of the gentleman from Cambria County and out of courtesy to him I would ask that these remarks be inserted in the record, placing his name as co-sponsor on this bill. His bill had a similar idea, but was a little more drastic.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1506, entitled:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1665, entitled:

An Act relating to the fees of attorneys-at-law as part of the taxable costs in cases in the several courts of Common Pleas County Court of Allegheny County and Municipal Court of Philadelphia and on appeals to the Superior and Supreme Courts of this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. METZINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 6 and 7 by striking out the following: "and on appeals to the Superior and Supreme Courts of this Commonwealth"

Amend Sec. 3, page 2, line 8, by striking out the word "fifty" and insert in lieu thereof "twenty"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 496, entitled:

An Act authorizing judges imposing sentences on persons convicted of crime to impose an additional sentence to work on the highways in the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 717, entitled:

An Act relating and regulating the taking of bail in criminal cases providing penalties for violation thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I dislike to annoy you any further but this bill is so vitally bad, and so inherently wrong that I cannot help getting up and saying just a few words. I don't know what was in the minds of the sponsors of the bill when they introduced it. The bills says that when a person or surety company gives bail for another that in giving bail they must disclose any person or persons who have agreed to indemnify them for such bail. It further says in an action at law in a civil proceeding where a surety company gives bail for one and the surety company had to pay, it says that the surety company shall not be permitted to collect from the person who indemnified that insurance company unless they set forth in the affidavit that fact, and in the bail bond accompanying that they had been indemnified. I don't know what purpose it wants to serve and I don't know why it was introduced, but I want to say that if a person gives bail, and having given good and substantial security that ought to be sufficient, they certainly ought not to have to disclose whether some promise was made to reimburse them for that loss, and I therefore ask the members of the House to defeat this bill, and I am going to ask you to defeat it badly.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill that you have before you No. 717 is a bill presented by the District Attorneys association of Pennsylvania. The bill is not vicious. The bill is very meritorious. Now, let us consider what is the practice today. Let us consider the evil that exists and let us consider the cure that is suggested. We find today that we have in the practice of criminal law an entirely new situation in America. Thirty, forty and fifty years ago and longer no conditions like this ever existed. We find today that we have organized bands of criminals, and we find that those men are well provided with money. We find that they have money to engage counsel and we find that when they set out in the preparation of a crime they set aside money for their defense; that they set aside money for their bail. Today when John Jones commits a crime he has two thousand dollars ready to pay to a bonding company, to deliver to a bonding company, and that bonding company goes his bail. The very man that commits a crime posts money with the bonding company when he is arrested and the bonding company goes his bail. He leaves the city or the county where he committed the crime and says, "so long" to his two thousand dollars that he don't mind losing. That is part of the cost in the commission of a crime. He goes to some other place and then commits a crime there and if he is not detected that is his profit, but today there is absolutely no way of knowing who is back of these organized bands and the district attorneys association wants to cure it by saying that a bonding company that takes a deposit shall say whether they take it from the very criminal that is charged with a crime or whether they take it from some one else, as well as who is connected with that band. Now, I ask you members in all fairness to go along with this bill in an effort to help the district attorneys of Pennsylvania to break up organized criminal organizations.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Sowers in the first instance this bill not only applies to surety companies but it also applies, does it not, to any person, firm or corporation that goes bail for another?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes.

Mr. WITKIN. So that if an ordinary individual is arrested and a friend of his goes bail for him and some other friend promises to make good if that fellow gets away on an ordinary crime they would have to set that forth in an affidavit?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes.

Mr. WITKIN. And if they don't do it they could not collect. That is correct?

Mr. SOWERS. Wait a minute you are going too fast. It says this, in other words, suppose I represent Jim Jones—

Mr. WITKIN. No, answer my question.

Mr. SOWERS. I want to answer—

Mr. WITKIN. I ask the gentleman to answer my question yes or no.

Mr. SOWERS.—and to explain.

Mr. WITKIN. Make the explanation afterward.

Mr. SOWERS. It is answered yes and it is answered no, and the explanation is, if you are retained to represent Bum Rodgers and along comes Jim Smith and enters bail and if now the pal of Bum Rodgers, we will say, has staked the bail or has put up the security for the bail with the person or surety company that you have induced to enter the bail don't you think the district attorney ought to know that.

Mr. WITKIN. Are you asking me questions or am I asking you questions.

Mr. SOWERS. You are doing very well.

Mr. WITKIN. Is that your explanation?

Mr. SOWERS. That is the explanation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 6 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen of the House, the next bill on the calendar is a bill to continue the commission to devise and recommend the metropolitan, or Greater Pittsburgh, idea. Now, some few weeks ago we had a discussion on the metropolitan bill in the House, and while still pending there were sufficient votes to pass that bill, and it was passed over my objection. Now you have already passed the metropolitan bill and it goes before the people in 1928. Why is it necessary to continue that commission. I want to say to you this is the most insulting and cheeky piece of legislation; talk about gall, unsophisticated gall, the worst I ever heard of! The people outside of Pittsburgh who are fighting this legislation in this bill and those that are inside who are fighting this bill, and there are many of them, are made to pay for the expenses of this commission which is doing something that they don't want. In other words, they are going to levy a tax on the people in the townships and boroughs, as well as the county, to finance this commission. I ask you in all fairness to vote this proposition down. Let the people decide this issue, they have the chance now, in 1928, and I ask you to vote this bill down. There is no necessity for this commission or the expense of it.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened to the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny to the effect that this bill was most insulting and cheeky. I sill maintain the same attitude that I have taken on the floor of this House since the session of 1919 and refuse to indulge in personalities as to the bill or as to the merits of the bill. I wish to call the attention of the members of the House to the greater Pittsburgh resolution which was passed in the extraordinary session of 1926, passed by this honorable body in 1927, for ratification by the voters of the State of Pennsylvania. When the original resolution was introduced in the extraordinary session of 1926 we did want a commission to investigate and to enlighten the people of Allegheny county in the event that we were successful in passing this resolution by the State of Pennsylvania to follow it up with an effort in the 1929 session. This bill calls for a continuation of the commission, without an appropriation. It merely allows,—if you will permit me for just a few moments to call your attention to page 5, section 5,—"the county and the several municipalities are authorized to make an appropriation for the use of the commission and the payment of its expenses; said appropriaton shall not exceed in any case two dollars in any year for each one hundred inhabitants of the county or of the municipality. The said commission is hereby authorized to receive contributions from individuals, corporations, boards or civic bodies to help defray the expenses of its work."

This is merely permission for the continuation of the commission that has already been authorized, to prolong its life, to permit this commission to inteligently appear before any legislative body, any body of decision to gather additional information, that in event this resolution be ratified we can intelligently appear before the legislative session of 1929. I ask every member of his House who so loyally and so conscientiously honored us by passing this resolution in order to make this commission a practical one and thereby make our program an uplifting and constructive one, and to make this bill a companion bill to the greater Pittsburgh resolution. I earnestly ask for your favorable consideration.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MARCUS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Have you any assurance that this present commission will be kept in force for the next two years?

Mr. MARCUS. I have no knowledge, if this act passes, whether the present commission will be continued or whether there will be any substitution in the commission.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Otherwise then, you don't know whether the present administration would or would not rip out this present commission on the passage of this bill?

Mr. MARCUS. I am presenting this bill in good faith, and I have every reason to believe that if the members in this body will help to pass this bill that it will be constructive and practical and to the best interests of the voters of Allegheny County.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Marcus I have not in any way questioned your good faith in the bill. I believe you have presented the bill in good faith, but I wanted to know for the benefit of the members of Allegheny county outside of the city of Pittsburgh, whether or not you as sponsor of the bill had any idea of the present commission being kept in force.

Mr. MARCUS. I have not.

Mr. HOWE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MARCUS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOWE. Did I hear the gentleman from Allegheny rightly, when he said this bill carried no appropriation?

Mr. MARCUS. That is correct, from the state.

Mr. HOWE. From the state,—but it does allow the county commissioners to assess two dollars for every one hundred of population.

Mr. MARCUS. Every one hundred.

Mr. HOWE. Of the population of the county of Allegheny?

Mr. MARCUS. If they desire to exercise the provisions of this bill.

Mr. HOWE. No question about that. That would furnish approximately $26,000 a year; am I about right on that?

Mr. MARCUS. I have not taken the time to get an approximate idea as to the figures, but I would say approximately closer to $20,000 than to $26,000.

Mr. HOWE. Per year.

Mr. MARCUS. Yes.

Mr. HOWE. Then there really is no appropriation made other than this?

Mr. MARCUS. There is no appropriation made so far as the state is concerned. This appropriation is a question which will have to be submitted to the voters of Allegheny County if the county commissioners desire to use the powers vested in this bill.

Mr. HOWE. Does the gentleman from Allegheny county know whether the present commission has been asked to resign or not?

Mr. MARCUS. I do not.

Mr. HOWE. For the benefit of the members of the House, I will say that the present commission was asked to resign, and the entire commission has resigned. Now, if this act passes you can see the position we are in, the members from the rural district of Allegheny County. There will be another commission appointed to supersede the last commission which was composed of sixteen members from the rural districts and eight, I believe from the city proper. I believe that if this bill had been drafted in such a way that the old commission would be continued it would be alright, but I can see where the joker is in this proposition.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when I said the bill was insulting, I did not mean anything personal to my good friend, Mr. Marcus, but I still insist that this bill is insulting to the people outside of Pittsburgh who are opposed to this bill for the reason that instead of carrying an appropriation from the state, which is the common practice and customary in all commissions created by this legislature, the provision of this bill makes the people of Allegheny county, if the county commissioner so desire,—and there is no question about that desire in the last five or six years,—say an assessment of two dollars for each one hundred of population. The way I figure it out in dollars and cents, the population in Allegheny county in round numbers is between 1,300,000 and 1,400,000 and taking the smaller number, you have $26,000 as my good friend Mr. Howe has told you. They want to tax the people outside of Pittsburgh, as well as inside, to help them gain, what we are all against. They want our money to help them fight us. Is there anything fair about that proposition? How would any one of you members act if you are living in rural districts, in a borough next to a city and have the city come down here and say, "Yes, we want an appropriation and we want to assess you people that don't want to go in, to make you go in." That is the part that I say is insulting. I can say positively that the present members of the commission have every one of them handed their resignation to Governor Fisher because the president of that commission told me so only yesterday. Where is the necessity for continuing this commission when they have already handed in their resignation? There is no necessity for it, and I ask you to vote no on it.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, about two months ago or six weeks ago we had the metropolitan bill before the House and I at that time asked you to vote that bill down. Now, as a member of Allegheny, outside of the city of Pittsburgh, we don't think it is fair. At that time I was a little dubious about the roll call and although they had 105 there was a question in my mind regarding it. I want to ask the House at this time, in fairness to the members of Allegheny county outside of the city of Pittsburgh, to vote "no" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

HONORABLE JOSEPH C. MARCUS, PRESIDING.

The CHAIRMAN. By resolution adopted by this House, this hour has been set aside to perpetuate the memories of those who were former members of this House and whom Providence has removed from our midst. The resolution is for the specific purpose of honoring the memory of the Hon. William J. McCaig, who was a member of the House Appropriations Committee in sessions gone by; the Hon. William J. Mangan, a former member of this House and who resided as well with the late Hon. William J. McCaig, in Allegheny County; the memory of the Hon. Thomas H. Garvin, from Delaware County whom we all knew, loved, respected and admired, and in memory of the Honorable George A. Lukehart who represented his constituency in Clearfield County.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Leslie.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. Chairman, and members of the General Assembly, and friends, a part of my duty is, at least in my humble way, to express the esteem in which our deceased friend is held by the members of this General Assembly and his friends in the city of Pittsburgh and in Allegheny County. Therefore Mr. Chairman, I present this resolution and ask that the Clerk read the same.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

RESOLUTION IN MEMORY OF THE LATE HONORABLE WM. J. McCAIG.

In the House of Representatives, April 5th, 1927.

Whereas, That kindly man, that unassuming, retiring, modest and loved member of the House of Representatives, Honorable William McCaig of Allegheny County, who for six terms served with us and who for eight years presided over the work of the House Committee on Appropriations, has passed from among us and,

Whereas, His death has brought real sorrow to those who knew him, has wet the eye with tears of grief and has brought a sense of loss which time has not assuaged, and

Whereas, The labor he rendered to the State, his service to the charitable institutions of the Commonwealth, and his intimate knowledge of the needs of those who drew from her resources, set him apart as one to whom a host was drawn for advice and aid and assistance, and

Whereas, During his years of service, by his willingness to help, his devotion to duty and his untiring efforts to meet the wishes of those who appealed to him, he won the respect and esteem and love of all, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of the Honorable William McCaig, the House of Representatives has lost a member whose qualities of mind, and whose knowledge of the financial condition of the State made him of peculiar value to the Commonwealth as a member and one whose personal qualities endeared him to those with whom he served, and be it

Resolved, That to the aged other who survives him, and to whom he was at all time a comfort and protection, we extend out kindest sympatey, together with the hope that to her, the knowledge of the good he performed and the service he rendered, may bring some solace in her hour of grief, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of those resolutions, signed by the Speaker and attested by the Chief Clerk, be sent to the surviving members of his family.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. Chairman, our friend was born in Pittsburgh, on July 20, 1866. He was educated in the public schools of the city of Pittsburgh and served in the councils of that city for a period of four years. He then came to the General Assembly, and was elected in 1912 and then for five other consecutive terms. He died in his 59th year. For eight years, or four sessions of the legislature he presided over the Committee on Appropriations and with his knowledge of the work and his loving character occurred one of the most marvelous things, possibly, that could happen in a body of this kind, he never made an enemy,—he made friends. It was because of his disposition, wholesome in character and loving to that degree that he would not quarrel with any person. He would take most any kind of a position that would be consoling and advising to determine and work out the problems of the members of the General Assembly, and you all have more or less to do with that great committee. There never was a complaint at any time during the eight years in which he served as the head of that committee, and as the chairman of the Slate committee on the question of the appointment that went along with the workings of the body. There never was a single person dissatisfied. That, of itself, was so well demonstrated and so well proven that we are now only realizing what a loss we have sustained and how hard it is to replace him. I have a word in poetry, and I think it covers our subject and his individuality better than anything that I have read. The title of this poem is, "The Measure of a Man."

Not—
"How did he die?"
But—
"How did he live?"
Not—
"What did he give?"
These are the units
To measure the worth
Of a man, as a man,
Regardless of birth.
Not—
"What was his station?"
But—
"Had he a heart?"
And—
"How did he play
His God-given part?
Was he ever ready
With a word of good cheer,
To bring back a smile,
to banish a tear?"
Not—
"What was his church?"
Nor—
"What was his creed?"
But—
"Had he befriended
Those really in need?"
Not—
"What did the sketch
In the newspapers say?"
But—
"How many were sorry
When he passed away?"

I feel that to give a further recital as to the man is unnecessary for he was a real man. His love for his widowed mother was of such a kind and character that there never was a week that he did not at least spend half a day with her, and dined at home as a solace to her soul. Every person that knew him knew that as to his appearance, personality and characteristics on the question of meeting men and doing work he had no superior. Therefore, as the archives of this great state will hold a word of record of this meeting and knowing that record, while briefly stated, will redound to the credit of every person here, and to his memory, it should be embossed and put in such a way that it can be seen.

Very few men that work in the ranks of politics have received any particular credit or commendation but from the second legislative district of Pittsburgh, and yea, from the city of Pittsburgh and throughout the county of Allegheny, "Billie" McCaig was respected, and in some sense more than that, he was adored, and had the greatest host of friends of any man who came from our community. I know without question that many of you members who served with him can add to what I have said, but I don't believe you will take one word away from what I have said in eulogy of him. Death cometh when not expected. We are here today and have no assurance as to the dawn of tomorrow. I am now proud of the fact that I had acquaintanceship with my dear departed friend whom I loved and adored.

On the question,

Shall the resolution presented by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, be adopted.

It was unanimously adopted.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Chairman, I offer the following resolution, and ask that the same be read.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

RESOLUTION IN MEMORY OF THE LATE HONORABLE WILLIAM J. MANGAN.

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1927.

Whereas, The Hon. William J. Mangan, late of Allegheny County, a member of this House for six consecutive terms, was called from the activities of this life on February twenty-eighth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six, and

Whereas, He had not yet passed on life's highway the mile stone that marks the highest point, but while the noon time sun was making bright the hours that marked each day, and

Whereas, At the zenith of his power, with the honors won by his work, his ability and his friendliness, thick and fast upon him he passed into silence, and

Whereas, His labors in the House were marked by the care with which he won and held the friendship and esteem of those with whom he served, and

Whereas, His indefatigable and persistant efforts in the passage of such legislation as protected the interests of labor and the sincerity with which he at all times guarded the interests of those who toil, mark him as one who served his fellow man, therefore be it

Resolved, That the absence of the Hon. William J. Mangan from this House will be noticed not only by those who knew and loved him here, but by those whom he most consistently served and who looked to him as the guardian of their interests, that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has lost an able legislator, that his constituents have been deprived of services whose worth will grow with time, and be it

Resolved, That we tender to those who survive him our sincere and heart felt sympathy in the loss they have sustained, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, signed by the Speaker and attested by the Chief Clerk, be sent to the surviving members of his family.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Chairman and friends, Sherlock states it very fitly when he says the following: "We call it death to leave this world, but were we once out of it and enstated into the happiness of the next, we should think it were dying indeed to come back to it again."

William J. Mangan, a member from the sixth legislative district of Allegheny county served this body for six consecutive terms, not an intervening defeated term did come into his career. He served this district in such a way that the people sought to bring him back practically without opposition. He was kind and he was affectionate. He had a good word for his friends to whom he was loyal and true. The friendship that he made here shall live on forever and the memory of William J. Mangan still rests very dearly in our hearts. He was true to his convictions. In his early days, as a brakeman on the railroad a strike occurred in which the men were called out. William J. Mangan, true to his convictions and to his principles stuck to the ship and never went back because the railroad refused to recognize the union and he still maintained that conviction up to the time of his death. This insures to us the true and absolute loyalty on the part of our departed brother. William J. Mangan served three terms as chairman of the Committee on Labor and Industry and his actions on that committee were more than fair. He was true to his principles as I have stated, that of unionism, which was demonstrated and shown in his every act upon the floor of the House. In conclusion I will say as Henry Ward Beecher states it so pleasantly:

"When the sun goes below the horizon, he is not set; the heavens glow for a full hour after his departure. And when a great and good man sets, the sky of this world is luminous long after he is out of sight. Such a man cannot die out of this world. When he goes he leaves behind much of himself. Being dead he speaks."

On the question,

Shall the resolution presented by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander, be adopted.

It was unanimously adopted.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goehring.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, I do not know how many of you remember Mr. Mangan. Born and raised in the city of Pittsburgh, when eleven years of age he realized that his family could not make ends meet. He had a sister whom he loved. Now, Mr. Mangan wanted an education, but he realized that a man could get through this world without it, whereas an education should be at the door of every woman. Therefore, he started working in the glass works, on the south side of Pittsburgh. At that time the largest glass works in the world were located along Carson Street, right in the neighborhood where Mr. Mangan was born and raised. He sent that little girl to school and educated her. Later on he entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad as a brakeman and later as a conductor. Finally he was elected in 1914 to the body of this House and, as has been stated here before, he never lost an election because everyone in that election district knew William J. Mangan. The railroad boys knew him. His heart and soul were in the interests of every co-employe of his on the railroad at that time, and when he came down here many a time they sent delegation after delegation on the floor of this House just to show their respect for him. A big hearted fellow; I do not know a man who had fewer enemies than William J. Mangan. The worst enemy he had was William J. Mangan himself, and he did love the men in the railroad employ, his heart and soul were with those boys. When he came down here he never demanded anything from capital that was not just, but he did work hard for those boys with the railroad company, and when any of us would attack one of those boys he was at all times on his feet. Blessed be the man who loves his fellow man, and that was William J. Mangan. He was a man of his word. When "Buck", as he was known, gave you his word that he would do a certain thing, he did it, and he attended to his duties down here with the utmost fidelity. He loved the union. He thought that that was the only way that the men would ever succeed in getting a daily wage and of course he voted down here in behalf of those men. I say to you members of the House in all sincerity, I never knew a man that had a bigger heart and kinder thought for every person. He was only too glad to go the limit for a friend.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman, from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following resolution in reference to the Honorable George J. Lukehart.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

RESOLUTION IN MEMORY OF THE LATE HONORABLE GEORGE A. LUKEHART.

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1927.

Whereas, On February twenty-eighth, Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-six, there was called from us a former member, the Honorable George A. Lukehart, of Clearfield County; and

Whereas, This body desires to enter its testimony in appreciation of the sterling qualities of our late member; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania hereby records its high estimate of our late associate as a citizen, a legislator and a man;

Resolved, That in the death of Representative Lukehart, the Commonwealth has lost one of its most substantial citizens, the House of Representatives a faithful and efficient member and we, his associates, an honored and trustworthy colleague;

Resolved, That we tender to his family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in the great loss they have suffered;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, signed by the Speaker, and attested by the Chief Clerk, be sent to the family of the deceased.

On the question,

Shall the resolution, presented by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, be adopted?

It was unanimously adopted.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following resolution in reference to the Honorable Thomas H. Garvin.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

RESOLUTION IN MEMORY OF THE LATE HONORABLE THOMAS H. GARVIN.

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1927.

Whereas, On April eighteenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, but two days after the final adjournment of the regular session of the House, there passed into eternity the man who for almost a quarter of a century had as Chief Clerk guided and directed its clerical work and kept intact and in working order the machinery of the House that made for efficiency, and

Whereas, After a service of four terms as a member of the House and for fourteen regular sessions as its Chief Clerk, the Hon. Thomas H. Garvin, had so versed himself in Legislative procedure as to be of inestimable worth to the Commonwealth and to those who served as members of the House, and

Whereas, To that store of knowledge he added the desire to help, the wish to assist and the willingness to advise which made and held for him the friendship and love of all those who have enjoyed membership in this House during the many years of his stewardship, and

Whereas, This House as well for the present membership, as for those who have been connected with it since the beginning of his years of service desires to make a minute of his outstanding record, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of the Hon. Thomas H. Garvin, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has lost a most efficient and capable official, the members of the House have had taken from them one whose help and advice and assistance lightened their labors and his community has had terminated the efforts of one continually laboring for its betterment, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, properly engrossed and signed by the Speaker and officers of the House be forwarded to the family of the said Hon. Thomas H. Garvin.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman and friends, on the 23rd day of October, 1857, there was born in the city of Philadelphia, a man who departed this life on the 18th day of April, 1925, leaving behind him such a record of service to his family, his community and the state that it seems to me that it is fitting that we pause in the midst of this busy session and in this way pay respect to his memory as this House has in the past. He served four sessions as a member of this House, from 1893 to 1900, and from 1901 to 1925, almost a quarter of a century as the resolution has stated, he was the Chief Clerk of this House. It would be almost an insult on my part to call the attention of the members of the House, who are familiar with the work of the Chief Clerk, to the invaluable assistance that he can be in legislative matters. We all know the great grasp Mr. Garvin had on legislation, the great grasp that he had on the functions of this legislature, and beyond that we know that he always had a kind and helping hand for every member of the House. Great as was his service to the state as Chief Clerk, as famous as he was to the people of this state as Chief Clerk of the House for this period of years, I think more of him as I knew him down in Delaware county as a resident of one of our fine suburban districts, the town of Sharon Hill, where he was a real father to the community. There he lived in a beautiful home, with a broad lawn, a fine comfortable home, where he had his family about him and he enjoyed his family very much. He was burgess of that town at times, he was interested in its fire department, he was president of the building and loan association, he was interested in the school, and he was an active worker in the Presbyterian Church. He took a very active interest in every part of that community and he was loved and respected by the people, I think we can say without any disrespect at all that this was evidenced more by the fact that in his political dealings in that community he may be said to have carried it in his "vest pocket," because whatever he desired was generally the unanimous opinion of all the people there. It is a community of intelligent people, of people of standing, of people of education, of people of influence, homes and home loving people, and these people followed this man. Therefore there must have been something fine and big in the man himself, when he led a community of that kind.

At the close of the 1925 season it was my great pleasure on behalf of the members of this House, to present to Mr. Garvin a radio set that was installed in his home, where he could enjoy it day by day. I want to say to the members of the House, it was one of the most gratifying things to him, it was a source of great delight in the closing days of his life to have it with him, not because it brought to him the news of the world, the music and the entertainment of the world but because it brought a thought of you men and women of this House and the employes of the House with whom he had labored and whom he loved. I used to think of it as sending out day by day through the air and over the radio the heart-beats, the good thoughts and the good will of the members of this House to a man who had done well.

On the question,

Shall the resolution presented by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, be adopted?

It was unanimously adopted.

The CHAIRMAN. This concludes the memorial services.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 3:30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 577.

A Supplement to the act approved the sixth day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws twenty-four) entitled "An act authorizing the issue and sale of bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto making an appropriation of the proceeds of such bonds for the purpose of improving and rebuilding the highways of the Commonwealth providing for the payment of interest on and the redemption of such bonds by the Board of Finance and Revenue and for the sale and registration of said bonds and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act" prescribing the method for making exchanges and transfers of registered and cupon bonds issued under the authority of the said act and fixing the future compensation of the Loan and Transfer Agent of the Commonwealth for services in connection with the said bonds

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend bill, page 3, line 8, by inserting after said line the following section:

Section 2 That in lieu of the compensation payable to said Loan and Transfer Agent under the provisions of section seven of the act to which this act is a supplement said Loan and Transfer Agent shall from time to time receive such compensation for its services rendered under the provisions of said act as shall be fixed by the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer not to exceed however the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) per annum

Amend section 2, page 3, line 6, by striking out the numeral "2" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "3".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on the Journal of March 28th, page 2010, House Bill No. 739, I have been recorded as voting "no" on the bill. I made the motion to reconsider the vote on the bill, talked for the bill and voted for the bill. I tried to get the clerk to correct it but it didn't seem possible, so I would like to have it corrected now.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1449, entitled:

An Act to permit general contractors to withdraw retained percentages on public works contracts and to substitute therefor United States Government Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or municipal bonds

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, lines 8 and 9 by striking out the entire said lines.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1870, entitled:

An Act prohibiting the establishment and operation of branch banks sub-offices and sub-agencies except in counties of the first class saving existing branch banks sub-offices and sub-agencies and repealing existing laws

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Strayer.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1271, (Senate Bill No. 373), entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of the [county commissioners] county controller recorder of deeds and clerk of courts in counties of the third class

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1857, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-one of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred) entitled "An act to provide for the immediate registration of all births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths and burial or removal permits requiring prompt returns to the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics as required to be established by the State Department of Health and in order to secure prompt and faithful registration of births marriages deaths and diseases of practitioners of medicine and surgery of midwives nurses and undertakers and of all persons whose occupation is deemed to be of importance in obtaining complete registration of births deaths marriages and diseases throughout the State as provided in section ten of an act entitled 'An act creating the Department of Health and defining is powers and duties' approved the twenty-seventh day of April Nineteen hundred and five and providing penalties for violations of this act"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mrs. PITTS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for amendment.

Mrs. PENNOCK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1697, entitled:

An Act providing that the records and official information of the Department of the Auditor General shall be confidential and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to call the attention of the House to the provisions of this bill. I would like to know what good reason exists for legislation of this kind. It seems to me we ought to have some reason before we pass a bill of this character, and I would like the sponsor to explain what good reason there exists for this bill being enacted into law. I would like to interrogate the sponsor of it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Wheeler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHEELER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARIG. I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill what good reason exists for legislation of this kind? What is the purpose of the bill, and why is such legislation necessary?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, this is a bill prepared by the Department of the Auditor General, and I am informed that there is some danger at times of information being dropped into the wrong hands unless some such preventative measure as is established in this bill is provided for. The gentleman from Delaware raised the point with me just now that the passage of such an act might possibly interfere with inquiries on the part, let us say, of the legislature. That was not the purpose of the bill, and I informed the gentleman from Delaware that I would be very glad to see that the bill was amended to meet any valid objection along that line. I think it is a well established practice that information on tax matters should not be at the disposal of any one except for some legitimate purpose, and that I take to be the purpose of this act which is desired by the Auditor General to be passed at this time.

In order to clear up any doubt in the minds of the members of the House I move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar so that objections can be removed if any objections exist.

Mr. WELTY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1540, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-one of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred) entitled "An act to provide for the immediate registration of all births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths and burial or removal permits requiring prompt returns to the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics as required to be established by the State Department of Health and in order to secure prompt and faithful registration of births marriages deaths and diseases of practioners of medicine and surgery of midwives nurses and undertakers and of all persons whose occupation is deemed to be of importance in obtaining complete registration of births deaths marriages and diseases throughout the State as provided in section ten of an act entitled 'An act creating the Department of Health and defining its powers and duties' approved the twenty-seventh day of April nineteen hundred and five and providing penalties for violations of this act" exempting soldiers sailors marines war nurses and their dependents from the payment of fees for certified copies of birth death and marriage certificates

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1740, entitled:

An Act creating in second class A cities a board for the assessment and revision of taxes providing for the appointment of the members of such board by the mayor of any such city fixing their salaries defining the powers and duties of such board and regulating the assessment of property and occupations for State county city school and poor purposes authorizing the appointment of subordinate assessors and clerks providing for their compensation and abolishing the office of ward assessor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHRISTIAN MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like, for the information of this House to have the sponsor of this bill explain the merits of it. There are a whole lot of us here in doubt as to the merits of this bill.

Mr. DAVIES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at the present time we have double assessment each year in Scranton. This is to make a single assessment. County and poor makes one assessment. We have twenty-two wards and twenty-two assessors, and generally the assessors we have for the county don't know more about the real estate than the ordinary fellow, and added to them the city has five at the present time. What we want is one single assessment.

Mr. CHRISTIAN MILLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am opposed to this bill on general principles. This bill don't appeal to anyone but John Davies, you understand, and I would ask this House to vote this bill down because there is no merit attached to it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and considerationof House Bill No. 1739, entitled:

An Act providing for the election in second class A cities of tax collectors who shall be collectors of county city school and poor taxes in such cities fixing their salaries for the performance of such duties and providing for clerks and office expenses and requiring school districts to pay their portion of the expense of the central office created by this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DAVIES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 1, line 9, by striking out the word "except"

Amend sec. 1, page 1, by striking out lines 10 and 11, both inclusive

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his Point of Order.

Mr. PERRY. Why cannot the bill be considered at this time, the amendment being just a strike out.

The SPEAKER. The Point of the gentleman is well taken. As the Amendment is merely a strike out the House can take action on the bill at once.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended.

MOTION TO POSTPONE.

Mr. DAVIES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calander.

Mr. DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 454, entitled:

An Act exempting talking machines radio instruments apparatus and appurtenances thereto household furniture leased hired or conditionally sold from levy and sale on execution or distress for rent

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

The SPEAKER. Will the Gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERLING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Sterling, was not household furniture eliminated from this bill by amendment in the committee?

Mr. STERLING. No, it was not.

Mr. SOWERS. Have you any objection to eliminating household furniture?

Mr. STERLING. I have.

Mr. SOWERS. In other words you want the bill to go through including household furniture?

Mr. STERLING. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I could well go along with this bill if it was limited to talking machcines and radio instruments, but when it exempts everything in the house from levy and distraint for rent then I think it is going too far, because the tenant will have nothing in the house that is not covered by what is mentioned in the bill. In other words, if you want to play unfair with the landlord you just let the wife own the furniture and let her put it up to the husband and then when the constable comes along and levies on it the wife says "It is my own property" and there is no protection for the landlord for his rent. I would like to go along on the radio and talking machines but the sponsor will not amend it to limit it to those two items.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is another side to the story. You all know that the deferred payment plan in the purchase of household goods and automobiles and what not as developed to-day into a very great part of the commercial life of our state and country. Now, there is nothing unfair in this bill because it provides that a landlord will be notified concerning any goods that are on the premises belonging to some person other than the tenant, so that by that notice alone the landlord, in my judgment, is adequately protected. There is, however, another side to the question. Since the deferred payment plan in the purchase of goods, and very largely household goods, involves the tenant in making periodical payments for those goods, if the landlord is permitted to come in after a very substantial payment has been made on those goods the tenant loses without any doubt the money that the tenant has put into it, so that you must not look upon this bill as one that seeks to protect only the deferred payment plan business, but as well the parties who buy goods on that basis, the tenants of the property. As I said before, the landlord in my judgment is adequately protected because the bill will provide, an amendment has been prepared and I have it here, that the landlord must give ten days notice, the owner of the goods must give ten days notice to the landlord. I didn't want to amend the bill here at the present time because I wanted to save the time of doing it. But gentlemen, the House has my absolute agreement that the amendment will be inserted if the bill goes to the Senate.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under ordinary circumstances I would like to go along with this bill, but we are getting to the point and fast arriving at the point where in the United States everything will be on lease; a man soon will be leasing his clothing. Nobody will own anything. They are getting automobiles on the partial payment plan by lease, they are getting washers the same way, ironing boards, talking machines, radios and pianos. Where is the thing going to stop? It is simply encouraging reckless expenditure of the contents of the employe's pay envelope. While he is at work these instalment people come along and tell the women, "Even if you cannot meet your payment every month, we won't take this thing out of your house. Pay so much each and every month and you can have it. If you miss a payment now and then that is all right." He is at work, and the first we know that family is undermined. Disputes arise and then they land in the domestic relations court. We find out that while he was at work she was buying this or buying that and the instalment payments will soon amount to a larger figure than his pay amounts to. I think it is time now that we discourage and not encourage it. Let us do something to encourage thrift and savings so that when the rainy day comes they will have something. For the good of the family a bill of this kind is infinitely bad and I will vote against it.

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERLING. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOLMES. I would like to know, Mr. Sterling, whether in the present landlord and tenant law there is a provision which provides that any one selling goods on the instalment or partial payment plan for giving the landlord notice prior to the time they are placed on the property, whether they are not subject to distraint for rent.

Mr. STERLING. No sir, there is no such provision in the law to-day except in the—

Mr. HOLMES. Then there has been a great mistake.

Mr. STERLING.—except in the case of pianos, except in the case of certain apparatus the law requires that the name of the owner be fully and prominently placed upon the goods.

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, as a landlord I want to say that many companies come to me and asked me to waive my right to attach before they place their goods in any of my property. They don't serve notice on me now until I am ready to distrain that lease not prior, or notify me before the goods are placed in my property; therefore, I think the bill is wrong.

Mr. STERLING. Aside from the bill itself, members of the House, there is a very great economic question involved in the deferred payment plan for the sale of goods. The gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, has opened up that subject. I want to give the House the benefit of my own impressions on that situation. I dare say that there are many men in this House, who were it not for the deferred payment plan for the luxuries of life would not have those luxuries of life. My friend, Mr. Staudenmeier, from Schuylkill, has mentioned thrift. There is very little difference between periodical savings in a building and loan association where you accumulate the money itself and periodical savings by a deferred payment plan where you accumulate for yourself the title to a piano, or a diamond ring, or an automobile, or household furniture, if you like. My point is this, that if it were not for the very broad and extensive giving of credit by the deferred payment plan many people in our Commonwealth would not to-day have an opportunity of enjoying those things which they to-day enjoy. That, gentlemen of the House, is the entire reason why this bill should be approved by you.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1699, entitled

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and ninety-three) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended exempting corporations of the first class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FRANK N. MOORE. Mr. Speaker I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Wheeler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHEELER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FRANK N. MOORE. I don't understand what is meant by corporations o fthe first class here. Will you please give us an illustration between the first class and other corporations.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is informed that corporations of the first class are described as corporations organized not for profit, such as lodges, or fraternal societies, or hospital corporations,—corporations organized not for profit.

REPORT FROM THE FISCAL OFFICERS.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Fiscal Officers, which was read as follows:

To the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In compliance with request in concurrent resolution, approved March 9, 1927, we have the honor to report that after very careful and mature consideration we find that the detailed estimates of the revenues for the biennium ending May 31, 1929, as set forth on pages 96 to 101 in Governor Fisher's Budget Message to the Legislature, under date of January 31, 1927, are as accurate and in as much detail as can practically be furnished.

The estimated revenues of $130,036,756.00 for the biennium 1927-29, as set forth in Governor Fisher's Budget, are less than the actual amounts that will be collected during the current biennium 1925-27. This is due to three reasons:

1. There was collected, approximately, $3,000,000.00 highway construction refunds which is nothing more than a bookkeeping proposition, and simply represents amounts previously paid out and refunded:
2. $1, 795,967.84 representing collections of gasoline tax and paid into the General Fund will not be paid into the General Fund during the 1927-29 biennium, for the reason that the Act of 1925 transferred these payments from the General Fund to the Motor Fund:
3. $2,683,050.45 was collected from emergency profits tax and paid into the General Fund during the present biennium, but will not be paid into the Treasury during the 1927-29 biennium. This Emergency Act was enacted by the 1923 Session for a period of two years, and, consequently, automatically expired.

Hence, there will be an apparant decrease of seven and a half million dollars of the General Fund receipts from the 1925-27 biennium.

If the General Fund receipts during the months of April and May only equal the receipts of the corresponding two months of last year, there should be at the end of the biennium in the State Treasury, in excess of all appropriation liabilities due to Acts passed during and prior to the 1925 Session, a balance of $9,248,898.11. There would, therefore, be available for appropriation purposes by the present Legislature a sum total of, approximately, $139,285,652.00. Of course, it is understood that these estimates are all based upon the assumption that no changes have been or will be made by the present Legislature in revenue acts which contributed toward the General Fund.

Respectfully submitted, April 5, 1927.

Edward Martin.

S. S. Lewis.

Arthur P. Townsend.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 856, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-four of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended imposing a tax on the premiums of mutual life insurance companies

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, On this bill, No. 856, I would like to have the sponsor explain the bill.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, this bill is purely an administration bill and for that reason I am the sponsor. It seems that when a bill was passed taxing the stock life insurance companies they neglected to put in the mutual insurance companies. Now, as I understand, the stock companies have been paying several million dollars of taxes and the mutuals have not been paying anything, and I want to impress upon your mind that this is an administration bill, devised by the administration and handed by the administration to me as sponsor. Now, while I personally am not interested in the bill in any way or form, I want to go along with the Governor. I am the sponsor for the bill and feel that it is a just bill and for that reason I ask you to vote aye.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the benefit of those who don't know what a mutual is, a mutual has no stockholders, each policyholder is a stockholder. If this bill is passed it lays a tax on the premium of mutual life insurance companies. Now gentlemen, they simply raise your life insurance premium that much. If you want to buy life insurance you have to pay that much more for it. That raises your mutual premiums equal to the stock company premiums. I am asking you to vote the measure down because we don't want our life insurance which is very dear to us, to have an additional tax which we must pay.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, may I say, I have been informed by Mr. Wheeler that up to 1925 the mutuals paid along with the stock companies, but when they changed the bill they forgot to put the mutuals in.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Hess,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1036, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation out of the motor license fund to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the payment of the loan and transfer agent of the Commonwealth

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Does not this bill require an appropriation to the Board of Finance and Revenue which is created under House Bill No. 917 and which under the provisions of that bill does not begin to function until 1929?

Mr. HESS. This appropriation is for the purpose of making payment of compensation to the commonwealth loan and transfer agents for services rendered the Commonwealth in connection with the adjustment, transfer and payment of interest on highway bonds and for other services required to be performed by the said loan and transfer agents.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Is it not a fact that under the provisions of House Bill No. 917 the board of finance and revenue does not begin to function until after the legislature of 1929 prescribes the rules and regulation for that department?

Mr. HESS. This appropriation is for the payment to the present board of finance and revenue under the Code. The other is the department of revenue that you refer to.

Mr. BLUMBERG. May I ask the gentleman, as I believe there possibly may be some confusion as to which department is meant, that he permit this bill to remain on the postponed calendar until tomorrow in order to give us an opportunity to examine further House Bill No. 917?

Mr. HESS. Out of deference to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I had the bill placed on the postponed calendar last week, on March 29. I have this reminder from the office of the Budget Office House Bill No. 1036 loan and transfer agent bill postponed for the present on March 29. This bill is provided for by the act of Assembly and the appropriation should be made.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Will the gentleman permit it to remain on the postponed calendar until tomorrow?

Mr. HESS. If the department is satisfied, out of deference to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I will be pleased to leave the bill on the postponed calendar, with the understanding that it be called up and acted upon tomorrow morning.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection this bill will remain on the postponed calendar.

Is there objection?

The Chair hears none and the bill remains on the postponed calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1928, entitled:

An Act to amend sections twenty and twenty-one of an act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended exempting corporations of the first class

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Weber,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1092, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-three of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty) entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" as amended by excepting from the provisions thereof taxi cab companies

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure, permit himsef to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARIG. What good reason is there for exempting taxi-cab companies from the payment of taxes? Why should they not pay taxes the same as other transportation firms?

Mr. McCLURE. There are a number of reasons. One reason is the fact that taxi cab companies to-day are subject to at least five state taxes.

Mr. SARIG. Are no other companies subject to the same taxes?

Mr. McCLURE. They are not.

Mr. SARIG. What particular taxes are taxicab companies subject to that other transportation companies are not subject to?

Mr. McCLURE. Taxi-cab companies are subject, first, to the motor license fee for the license tags; second, for the registration certificates and for the title certificates on the turn over of the cars during the year. They are subject to the capital stock tax. They are subject to the gasoline tax which last night was raised to three cents a gallon and if you make them subject to this tax which they have never paid you will make them subject to six state taxes.

Mr. SARIG. If they have never paid this tax, why is this legislation necessary?

Mr. McCLURE. This legislation is necessary to clear up a much mooted question. This act was originally passed in 1889 and for a period of thirty-five years no request was made upon the taxicab companies or cab companies to pay this tax, but file reports. In 1923 they attempted to amend this act to include the taxicab companies. The legislation failed on the floor of this House, and in 1925 an attempt was again made to read the taxicab companies into this bill and again that legislation failed. The purpose of this act, as I have said before, is to clarify the question as to whether or not the taxicab companies should pay this tax.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. BUSH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and the ayes and nays were as follows:

NAYS—1.

Weber,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1829, (Senate Bill No. 157), entitled:

An Act regulating the compensation of sheriffs for boarding prisoners confined in the county jail in the counties of the seventh class

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, coming from a seventh class county as I do, I think this bill should be taken into consideration and I think we should vote aye on this question. The payment of the salary, or the price fixed for feeding of prisoners in a seventh class county was settled many years ago at fifty cents. Since that time the cost of living has increased more than one hundred per cent, and when we take into consideration that they must feed our prisoners in the jail and feed them at a cost of fifty cents a day it is unjust. The time of the Andersonville prison is past. We should at least give them some consideration and feed them more than bread and coffee. I think we should take this into consideration and vote aye on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1830, (Senate Bill No. 386), entitled:

An Act relating to the finances of the Commonwealth abolishing certain special funds in the State Treasury providing for the payment of the moneys therein and all future fees fines and penalties heretofore payable into such special funds into the general fund and making the same available for all lawful expenditures

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1 Page 2 Line 21 by striking out the words "and (v)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following "(v) the Bedding and Upholstery Fund and (w)"

The Speaker. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

MR. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend bill, page 2, line 21, by inserting after the word "fund" the following: (v) and the Insurance Department Fund

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1781, (Senate Bill No. 695), entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the third day of March one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight (Pamphlet Laws two hundred sixty-two) entitled "An act relative to the establishment of a law library in the county of Columbia"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1600, (Senate Bill No. 715), entitled:

An Act requiring Poor Districts and Hospitals for Mental Disease to establish a pension fund for all employees of district including district city and county homes and Hospitals for Mental Disease and regulating the administration and payment of such pensions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is anybody in the House that can explain the particular purpose of this bill? This bill creates a special pension fund in poor districts. Now in view of the fact that we are about to consider a general old age pension act, I doubt the advisability of creating a lot of special pension funds and this is one of them. I would like to call the attention of the members of the House to this particular bill. I doubt whether it is advisable at this time to create any more special pension funds.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HRICKO. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 715, House Bill No. 1600, be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1596, (Senate Bill No. 280), entitled:

An Act to provide for the better protection of life and health by diminishing the danger from infectious and contagious diseases by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of all persons entering the business of burying the dead and providing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Weber,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1830, (Senate Bill No. 386) file folio 1059, entitled:

An Act relating to the finances of the Commonwealth abolishing certain special funds in the State Treasury providing for the payment of moneys therein and all future fees fines and penalties heretofore payable into such special funds into the general fund and making the same available for all lawful expenditures

Was agreed to on third reading as amended be reconsidered.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the amendments offered by Mr. Marcus to House Bill No. 1830 (Senate Bill No. 386) file folio 1059, were agreed to be reconsidered.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the noes seem to have it, whereupon a division was called for and 108 members or more than a majority of the whole House having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. HESS. The amendments of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadtlander, are satisfactory.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker I ask unanimous consent at this time to withdraw the amendments offered by me and which were inserted by unanimous consent to this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the withdrawal of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments are withdrawn.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended.

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1196, (Senate Bill No. 132), entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of members of the body acting as a board of revision of taxes in counties containing a population of one million two hundred and fifty thousand or over

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1838, (Senate Bill No. 922,) as follows:

An Act providing for a check of liquid measuring devices by the operators thereof and the filing and effect of the same and providing penalties

Definitions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "liquid fuels" shall mean all liquids ordinarily practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power except kerosene fuel oil and gas oil and shall include all distiliates of and condensates from petroleum natural gas coal coal tar and vegetable ferments said distillates and condensates being ordinarily designated as gasoline naphtha benzol benzine and alcohols so usable but not restricted to such designations

The term "liquid measuring device" shall mean a mechanism or machine adapted to measure and deliver liquid fuel by volume for retail trade commonly consisting of a pump or a pump in combination with other mechanism

The term "operator" shall mean any person association copartnership or corporation owning or leasing such liquid measuring device and employing the same in the retailing of liquid fuel

Section 2 Every operator of a liquid measuring device in this Commonwealth shall at least once in every twenty-four hours test the accuracy of the quantity automatic indicator of such device by drawing from said device not less than five gallons of liquid fuel and measuring the same in some container of accurately known content and comparing the amount registered by the automatic indicator of said device with the quantity so drawn out In the event that such liquid measuring device is not in operation as necessary for the entire period of twenty-four hours then such test shall be made immediately before the resumption of active operation of said liquid measuring device

Section 3 The operators shall thereupon note the results of said tests upon a duplicate monthly chart or report indicating whether such automatic measuring device registered a greater or lesser quantity than the amount of liquid fuel actually drawn together with the date and time of the test and the amount of liquid fuel used in such test The duplicate chart or report herein referred to shall be prepared by the county commissioners of each county after forms furnished by the Bureau of Standards of the Commonwealth and shall be furnished in sufficient quantities to each operator in the respective counties

Section 4 Each operator shall on or before the tenth day of each month mail to the inspector of weights and measures of the city or county in which he operates such liquid measuring device or if there be no such inspector then to the county commissioners of the county one copy of such monthly chart or report showing the records of the daily tests for the preceding month and shall keep the other copy on file at his place of business for the inspection of the county or city or Commonwealth inspectors of bureaus of Standards or weights and meaures If any such test shows a variation greater than the variation permitted by the rules and regulations of the Bureau of Standards of this Commonwealth it shall immediately be retested and if it again shows such illegal variation the use of such liquid measuring device shall be discontinued until corrected

Section 5 Any inspector of weights and measures of the city or county shall have access at all times during the period of the day when such liquid measuring device is being operated to make such tests or checks as to them shall seem necessary and to inspect the duplicate monthly charts or reports in the possession of the operators

Section 6 Each person association copartnership or corporation guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof before any alderman magistrate or justice of the peace of the proper county shall be fined fifty dollars In default of the payment of any fine as aforesaid the person convicted shall be sentenced to serve one day in jail of the proper county for each dollar of fine and costs All fines collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the county treasury

Section 7 This act shall take effect on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. EARLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1472, (Senate Bill No. 588), entitled:

An Act to amend sections two six seven and eleven as amended and to repeal sections one and three as amended of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred seventy-eight) entitled "An act providing for the escheat of deposits of money or property of another received for storage or safe-keeping the dividends profits debts and interest on debts of corporations companies banks trust companies insurance companies limited partnerships and partnership associations organized under the laws of this Commonwealth except mutual saving-fund society not having a capital stock represented by shares and except also building and loan associations and property held for the benefit of another by the same and the profits accretions and interest on such property as well as interest thereon accrued or which should have accrued between the fixing of the amount of such property by the award of any court and the actual distribution thereof" by excluding banks banking corporations and trust companies from the provisions thereof

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 276, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill you are about to pass on is probably one of the most important measures that has come before the House during this session. I have been asked by those who are interested in the old age pension amendment to make a statement to the House in order to clarify any misapprehension that has gone forward from the newspaper comment, either on the bill you are about to pass on or the old age pension amendment. This bill does not relate in any way to the old age pension amendment. No part of the appropriation or the bond issue provided for in the bill before you is to be applied directly to the old age pension provision. This bill provides for a fifty million dollar bond issue for capital expenditures for the erection, construction and equipment of institutions for the insane, epileptic and penal institutions. Before the passage of the bill of course it must yet go before the people of the Commonwealth for their approval. This resolution was passed by both branches of the legislature during the last session and it requires passage at this session in order that it may be presented to the people.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1567, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred six) entitled "An act requiring the county commissioners to provide at the expense of the county a telephone typewriter and stenographer for the use of the county superintendent of schools"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RICHARDS, Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Edward Brown, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDWARD BROWN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RICHARDS. I would like to ask the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Brown, line 4 page 2 "Each county in the Commonwealth, the county superintendent shall" on down to line 9 where it says: "In counties having less than three hundred teachers," do I understand Mr. Brown, that that means county schools or county and city schools combined? My reason for asking is this, the stenographer is only employed six months in the year and the county superintendent is handicapped, and I want to know if this includes counties with three hundred schools including the cities?

Mr. EDWARD BROWN. The entire county.

Mr. RICHARDS. The county superintendent has no supervision over city schools.

Mr. EDWARD BROWN. The county superintendent has no supervision over city schools.

Mr. RICHARDS. Does that not leave a point over which there might be a misconstruction of the bill later on?

Mr. EDWARD BROWN. It does not for this reason, if any county has less than three hundred teachers this act permits the county superintendent to have a stenographer for at least two days a week.

Mr. RICHARDS. My purpose in asking was for information because there are county superintendents who are now handicapped. I believe the bill is all right, and I merely wanted to be clear. I thank the gentleman from Luzerne.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Haws,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 310, entitled:

An Act to require the owner of each motor vehicle registered in pursuance of the laws of this State to provide as a prerequisite to the registration thereof and to maintain during the entire period of such registration a means whereby such owner can and will respond in damages to the extent in this act provided in satisfaction of the legal liability of said owner and or of the person operating said motor vehicle with the consent of said owner for injury (including death resulting therefrom) to person resulting from the negligent maintenance use or operation of such motor vehicle within this Commonwealth giving said owner the election of providing and maintaining such means of responding in damages either by filing an insurance policy or policies or a certificate or a surety bond or by satisfying the Secretary of Highways and or his agent of the financial responsibility of such owner aiding such owner in procuring and maintaining such insurance polcy or policies or bond providing for the issuance of certificates of compliance and providing for penalties and for methods of enforcement

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as I would desire to say something in defense of this bill, being the sponsor of it, I yield to my distinguished colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before you is House Bill No. 310, which is commonly known as the compulsory liability insurance bill, or motor vehicle bill. Bill No. 310 was prepared apparently by the Chamber of Commerce of Pennsylvania. It was offered in this House by Mr. Haws and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special. The Committee on Judiciary Special held a number of hearings on the bill, and after the various hearings the committee amended the bill to suit that committee. The amendments are now in that bill and the sponsor of the bill and the Chamber of Commerce no longer like the bill. Now, so you will understand, I will first tell you what the bill was as originally written. The bill first provided for liability insurance in the amount of five to ten thousand dollars with one thousand dollars property damage, and similar provisions in harmony with that basic principle. The committee listened to the figures that were presented as to the cost of the insurance, and the committee came to the conclusion that insurance of that kind would be an undue burden on the motor owner, so the committee has amended the bill striking out the ten thousand dollars and inserting in lieu thereof a policy for two thousand dollars, and the committee has taken out entirely the property damage clause. The committee went further, and if you will turn to the bill on page 9, file folio 6047, the committee there inserted an amendment saying that any applicant for a motor vehicle license who could swear under oath that he was worth at least one thousand dollars he would not have to furnish a policy. The committee also amended the bill on page 6 by saying that whenever the insurance company had paid a loss that if the loss was less than one hundred dollars the motor vehicle driver or owner would have to pay that. If it was more than one hundred dollars they would have to pay whatever was more than one hundred dollars. Now, the problem before the committee was this: We concluded that if everybody had a liability insurance policy there would be no inducement to the owner of a motor vehicle to be careful, so in order to induce care on the part of the driver of the motor vehicle we make the liability for one hundred dollars at all events his. We feel that the public should have careful drivers, and in order to have that care from the driver he must be liable at all events for one hundred dollars. The bill as the chamber of commerce says has "all the teeth out of it", the bill is a skeleton, but it is presented to you for your serious consideration, whether Pennsylvania shall say to its motor vehicle drivers, "If you have an accident, you must compensate the person that you negligently injure." Now, I think the House will agree with me on this proposition, that a man who is financially worthless, absolutely worthless, running around upon our highways with an automobile and is unable to respond in damages that that man ought to have more than his license revoked, he ought to be subject to the provisions herein contained. In other words, the man that is injured as a result of negligence should have something paid to him. I think I have explained the bill to you as amended, and if any of you want to ask questions about anything I will answer them.

Mr. EDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDE. What was the object in changing the figures from $5,000 to $10,000 to $1,000 to $2,000?

Mr. SOWERS. It is not amended $1,000 to $2,000. It is amended to $2,000. The object of it was this: We felt that most every farmer would swear under oath that he was financially worth $1,000 and we felt that those farmers that could not swear they were worth $1,000 should have a policy for $2,000.

Mr. EDE. As far as those are concerned who do not own property what would be the difference in the cost of the insurance policy?

Mr. SOWERS. I can hardly conceive of a man who can buy, own and keep up a motor vehicle being worth less than $1,000 unless it be the case of some of the men in the large cities who buy and own Ford automobiles for $100.00 to $150.00, pay $5.00 down and $5.00 when you catch them.

Mr. EDE. Is it not a fact that the large majority of automobiles registered in Pennsylvania to-day are bought on the instalment plan.

Mr. SOWERS. In answer to my friend, I think the majority of cars in Pennsylvania are not bought on the instalment plan.

Mr. EDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to call your attention to the fact that this bill was originally brought before the House by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce. The bill has been amended by the Judiciary General but not in the form in which the gentleman from Philadelphia would have you believe. At the meeting at which this bill was presented the meeting was held at approximately 12:00 or 1:00 o'clock in the morning at which only twelve out of the twenty-seven members of the Committee were present. That can be verified by the secretary's roll call. The bill was not passed on by the majority of the Committee.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. PERRY. It is the rule that the affairs of a Committee are not to be discussed upon the floor of the House.

The SPEAKER . The point is well taken. The gentleman will confine himself to a discussion of the bill.

Mr. EDE. This bill was originally presented by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce. They abandoned it because the bill has no longer any merit and I read to you an extract from their bulletin issued a few days ago in which they say, "This amendment passed upon by the Committee eliminates the provision for property damages and reduces the sum of the personal damages to $2,000. In addition they inserted a clause making it compulsory for the insured to pay at least $100.00 of the award made against him. In our opinion these amendments are so impracticable as to rob the bill of its beneficial features and we have reached the opinion that as it is not in conformity with the bill which was introduced by the membership that we had better abandon it." In addition, every motor association in the state of Pennsylvania which makes a study of motor questions have finally gone on record against this bill and as no body is in favor of this bill except a few who have adopted this bill among the members and have made this bill their baby, I think we should stand by those who have studied the automobile situation and vote this bill down.

Mr. SOWERS. I am glad you have heard my friend express himself. He takes the extreme position that there should be no liability enforcement on the owners of motor vehicles. The Chamber of Commerce took the very extreme position that there should be a penalty. The committee tried to reach a happy medium so that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania might try something and see what the experience of time will show. Now, there is a crying need to protect our citizens against the negligence of drivers of automobiles. They are absolutely responsible in damages and the committee, taking into consideration the extreme position of those interested in the bill, tried to bring it down to the man of common means and put in there that a man who can swear he is worth a thousand dollars is exempted from obtaining a policy. It was testified in the public hearing on this bill that over 50% of the motor vehicles in the State of Pennsylvania were now insured for large amounts. Now, why should not the other fifty per cent be insured for some sum, for your protection, for your constituents protection and for your childrens' protection, I ask you in all fairness to give this bill your earnest consideration and vote for the measure and let us see whether the next session of the legislature can bring about an improvement satisfactory to everybody at that time.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, as sponsor of this bill, I move you that it be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. FRATT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1865, entitled:

An Act to provide a standerd provision for all liability insurance policies whereby the insurer shall not be released because of the insolvency or bankruptcy of the assured and authorizing a right of action by an injured person or persons or those claiming in a representative capacity against said insurer

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1698, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws forty-six) entitled "An act fixing the number and salaries of clerks and other employees in the Auditor General's Department" as amended

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I wish to call your attention to the provisions of this bill. This is one of those bills that delegates broad and sweeping powers to the Auditor General's Department for naming a number of deputies, clerks, stenographers, and so forth, and fixes their salaries. It concludes with this clause: "And such other deputies, chief clerks, experts, accountants, auditors, investigators, examiners, collectors, secretaries, bookkeepers, clerks, stenographers, typists, messengers, watchmen and all other employees necessary for the proper administration of the Auditor General's Department at salaries or compensation to be fixed by the Auditor General." You will notice in that bill that the sky alone is the limit. There is absolutely no limit to the number of employes that may be taken into that department and at the same time it gives to the Auditor General the power to fix their salaries at any amount he sees fit. Personally I have nothing against the Auditor General of this state. I think he is just as good as the average Auditor Generals we have had, but I do say I do not think such broad and sweeping powers should be delegated to any official. Even if the Auditor General of Pennsylvania were so angelic that he had wings, I would still protest against the passage of this bill. I do not think that this legislature can consistently perform its duties and vote for a bill of this kind. As I said, there is no limit, the sky alone is the limit, as to the number of employes and their salaries. I, therefore, ask you to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there seems to be some misapprehension about this bill. There are two limits to the number of employees and the amount of salaries to be paid them which of course is contained in the amount which you members of the legislature see fit to appropriate to the Auditor General's Department. The Auditor General is not at liberty to pay salaries in excess of such limit unless he pays them out of his own pocket. In the next case there are two salaries as fixed by the act of 1913 that remain in the bill and they are the salaries of the two chief officers of the department, the revenue deputy and the disbursing deputy. The inference is that the other employes of the department would not receive so much as the two principal officers under the Auditor General in his department. These are two limits to these salaries that may be affected by the passage of this bill. The bill is simply to get rid of statutory salaries fixed by the old act fourteen years ago and give the Auditor General more latitude in fixing the salaries according to the merit of the employees in his department below the grade of the two chief deputies. In my opinion it is a step in the right direction and gives to the Auditor General the same latitude that we have already provided in regard to the Executive Department of the Government.

Mr. SARIG. If the theory, or explanation, of the sponsor of this bill is correct it does not work out. I think every one of the older members of this House knows that it has been the practice in the past, that when we have passed blanket legislation of this kind granting broad and sweeping powers to officials, the officials have gone way beyond the appropriation we have created and the result is that at the next session of the legislature they come in with their deficiency appropriations. I think every old member in this House knows that that is the practice. In theory the sponsor of this bill, if he is correct, says that the Auditor General would be limited by the appropriation, but in practice he is not so limited. He can place in that office an unlimited number of employees and two years from now come back here with a deficiency appropriation, and say that it was necessary, that under the act he was entitled to employ these men, and therefore will insert a big item in the deficiency appropriation bill. I believe we should not go on as we have in the past, granting such legislation, granting such broad and sweeping powers, granting to another department the powers vested in us. I think we should stand up as members of this House and do our duty as legislators. The people look to us to do our duty and I think we should do it. I think it is wrong in principle because, as I said before, while in theory the appropriation may be the limit, in practice it is not, as we know at every session of the legislature they have come back here with demands for deficiency appropriations taking care of the pay for such excess employees as have been taken on. No such broad and sweeping powers as this one should be granted.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 813, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Orphan Asylum of the Holy Family of Emsworth Allegheny County Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this institution has been classed as a sectarian institution. I wish to state to the members of the House that the Appropriations Committee has gone into this question very carefully and thoroughly and investigated every appropriation bill sent to committee to ascertain whether or not the institution is sectarian or non-sectarian, and if you will remember the other day we had certificates from the Department of Welfare and from the Auditor General in which these institutions were declared to be non-sectarian. I wish to state that our late member, William J. McCaig, was one of the trustees of this institution, and I can say to you that it is not a sectarian institute on and you need have no fear of voting for a sectarian institution by voting for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 7, 1927.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 655, Printer's No. 370, File Folio 2233, entitled "An act fixing the salary to be paid by each county of the first class, to its Chief Deputy Sheriff," which was recalled from the Governor April 5, 1927, for the purpose of amendment, be returned to the Governor without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1927.

Whereas The members and the committees of the Senate and House of Representatives have been greatly handicaped during the present session for want of sufficient office space and other conveniences and facilities necessary for the prompt dispatch of public business and

Whereas A study of other customs and practices now in vogue in the conduct of the Legislature might suggest changes which would further speed the work of the members therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the President pro tempore of the Senate shall appoint two Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House which Senators and members of the House shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to confer with the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings with the view of securing for the Legislature for the session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine sufficient and adequate rooms for the meetings of its committees for the use of the House stenographers and with the further view of securing additional telephone service and such other conveniences and facilities as may be deemed necessary by the Committee for the prompt dispatch of public business and be it further

Resolved That the said committee shall make a study of the practice and procedure now in vogue in the Senate and House of Representatives as to the method of printing Histories and such other matters as to them may seem to be in need of change and revision in order to assist Members in the work of the session and be it further

Resolved That the committee shall make a report to the Legislature of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine with the recommendations which it has laid before the said Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings and with such other recommendations as they may have to suggest in accordance with the intent of this resolution

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. BROMLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11:00 o'clock.

Mr. FRATT. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and (at 11:08 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until tomorrow morning, at 11:00 o'clock.
